Promotion and Relegation. The format of any play-off for potential promotion to the Premier League has still to be determined but should take place before the end of May.

The teams that have won their respective Leagues will be promoted to the corresponding League. Demotion may depend on whether we have enough teams to run three Leagues next year and whether we have any additional teams entering. If we have no additional teams we may combine Leagues 1 and 2 and only have demotion from the Championship.

New teams will be more than welcome next year
