Notes on the format:

This is the draw for the first round of the Welsh Cup. The draw has been made regionally as far as possible – to achieve triples, the teams from Mid-Wales have been drawn one with the North Wales teams and one with the South Wales teams (who are kept in their areas, West and East as far as possible).

There are 17 entries. Two teams have been seeded (by looking at gold point holdings) through into round two. The other 15 teams have been drawn into five 'triples', from which the winners of each triple and the best second-placed team will qualify for round two. The eight teams left at that stage will play knockout matches to decide the eventual winners. When matches in round one are largely complete, a new regional draw will be made, with some extra seeding.

In each triple, each team plays a 32-board match against each of the other two teams. If one team wins two matches, they win the group. If a team loses both matches they are bottom of the group. Otherwise group position is decided by aggregate IMPs. The winner of each group always proceeds to round two, and the bottom team is always eliminated.

The second-placed team with the highest net IMP score will also proceed. To ensure the fairness of this comparison, teams are expected to play the whole 32 boards in each match, using groups of 8 boards. To ensure there is still something to play for, each 8 board stanza will have $\frac{1}{4}$ green point at stake, as well as $\frac{1}{4}$ green point for winning the match. The awards for subsequent rounds will be given here when finalised, but should be similar to last year.

Within each triple, the first team listed is at home when playing the second team, the second is at home when playing the third and the third is at home when playing the first.

Please try very hard to complete your triple matches by the 6th of January 2014. Any difficulty in achieving this should be referred to the organiser in ample time for the issue to be resolved.

If circumstances require it, such as teams failing to agree dates, the organiser will exercise discretion. The organiser also has discretion to resolve disputes and make whatever adjustments are necessary in the interests of the competition as whole. In extremis, a team may be disqualified.

All players must be members of the WBU. Up to a maximum of 6 players in a team, extra players who have not played in the event may be added at any time, but notification before they play must be received as explained in the Journal.

Address queries and send results to me, Mike Tedd, preferably by email to mike.tedd@aber.ac.uk, by telephone 01970 611518 or by post to Llys Blodau, Iorwerth Ave, Aberystwyth SY23 1EW.

Make sure that you send the result of each 8-board stanza as well as the overall result, and for teams of more than four, make clear who played in the match (and in each stanza if more than four play in the match).

For your interest, the draw for Welsh and Cambria Cups is done by sending just the team numbers to someone else for randomising (consistent with regionalisation).
