

WBU Training Day

We are pleased to announce a training day for all Welsh international players and trialists on Saturday 4 December 2010 at Cardiff Bridge club and at Colwyn Bay Cricket Club.

Both members of the partnership should attend. The organisers are confident that everyone who attends will get something out of the day.

Topics for the day are likely to include opening leads, slam bidding, mishaps at the open trials and partnership understandings.

Two of three facilitators are members of the Camrose open team, Adrian Thomas and Pat Shields; the third is Julian Pottage, associate editor of BRIDGE and author of many books.

There is no charge for attending.

Attendees will have the chance to borrow books from the WBU development library, which is also free.

Start time is 1200 (noon) and we aim to finish by 1900.

Please bring any food you wish to have during the break.

Please also bring a pen and paper.

Please confirm to Neville Richards by 19 November whether you are able to attend.
